Chickens – 22 Narragansett: Compliance update

Mr. Fahey reported that he inspected the property and all appeared to be in compliance, based on the temporary variance from August 15. Mr. Gable indicated that Ms. Zaks had not gotten any more birds and that there was an improvement but still an odor. Mr. Gable believes Ms. Zaks should have to comply with the set-backs as defined in the regulations. Ms. Zaks requested we allow her coops to remain where they are due to the expense of moving them. The Board granted Ms. Zaks an additional variance to allow time to move the coops. It was decided Ms. Zaks would have until June 12 to comply with the 35' set-back outlined in the regulations.

Housing Updates
